

Associate Dean and Director of the Center for Wellness and Professional Fulfillment

Stanford Medicine is seeking to hire a highly qualified physician with extensive knowledge and leadership experience in the field of physician wellness to serve as an Associate Dean in the School of Medicine and Director of our new Center for Wellness and Professional Fulfillment.

 Model for Physician Wellness and Professional Fulfillment

The Director will advance physician wellness as a strategy for preeminence and thus a key consideration in all major strategic and operational activities across Stanford Medicine. The Director will serve as the Center's primary interface with senior School of Medicine and health system leadership on physician wellness, satisfaction and engagement issues, developing the Center into a key resource on which these other leaders may rely as they address wellness issues within their respective domains. The Director will provide strategic thinking and leadership while developing tactical approaches and tools for rigorous evaluation of interventions across the health system.

The Director is also expected to establish Stanford as a national and international center of investigation in physician wellness, taking full advantage of the diverse clinical and research resources available across the entire University.

The faculty position is at the Associate Professor or Professor rank in the Medical Center Line, Non-Tenure Line - Teaching or Clinician-Educator Line within the appropriate department. Candidates must have either an M.D. or Ph.D. We are seeking a candidate who combines proven leadership skills with an outstanding record of academic accomplishment, a dedication to excellence in the clinical, research and educational missions, and an understanding of the complexity of academic medicine. The ideal applicant will have demonstrated a talent for medical leadership and cultural transformation, with demonstrated proficiency in grant-writing and philanthropic funding.

The major criteria for appointment for faculty in the Medical Center Line shall be excellence in the overall mix of clinical care or programmatic development, clinical teaching, scholarly activity that advances clinical medicine, and institutional service appropriate to the programmatic need the individual is expected to fulfill. The major criterion for appointment for faculty in the Non-Tenure Line (Teaching) is evidence of high-level performance as a teacher for whose special knowledge and pedagogical skills a programmatic need exists. The major criterion for appointment in the Clinician Educator line is excellence in the overall mix of clinical care and clinical teaching appropriate to the programmatic need the individual is expected to fulfill. Faculty rank will be determined by the qualifications and experience of the successful candidate.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities, as well as from others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Interested candidates should submit their curriculum vitae, a brief letter outlining their interests and the names of three references to:
